

In 2013 I began to investigate the names inscribed on the War Memorial to create a Book of Remembrance for the village.

Later I was contacted by Carol Fitzgibbon from the Hovingham Family History Group after she saw the book, in its infancy, in St Chad's. The Group was in the process of researching the War Memorials in Ryedale.

We then worked together and I am indebted to Carol for her assistance in researching the names for Hutton le Hole. The information she provided over the intervening years was invaluable.

Grateful thanks also to family members who provided information, others who assisted with the research, and a previous resident whose memories shed light on events. All played an important role in adding to the content.

Unfortunately it was not possible to provide a military history for all the names as some of the records for WWI were destroyed during WWII.

The Book, however, is an ongoing project and any further information received will be added as it comes to light.

Heather Pettiford
2017

- This research has been carried out in good faith bearing in mind that in many cases secondary sources have been used which may be subject to transcription error and memories which can be fallible. If, however, there are any errors or omissions please email the editor of the Hutton le Hole website via the Contact Page: huttonlehole.ryedaleconnect.org.uk
- The right of Heather Pettiford to be identified as the author of this work has been asserted by her in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.